Increase Funding Request

TO: City Manager, John Bohenko

Mayor, Dale Girard
City Council

FROM: Gary Dickerman, Chair
Claremont Conservation Commission

RE: Request for Increased Funding

The Claremont Conservation Commission was established by City Council ordinance no. 163 on September 8, 1976.

The Commission's defined duties included:

- preparation of a program for conservation and open space utilization for the city which is based upon the research and evaluation of the natural resources within the city;
- creation and continued maintenance of a conservation and open space plan for the city which may include an inventory of the city's natural resources and areas of unique natural value or ecological importance within the city;
- making recommendations relative to the proper utilization and development of open space and related natural resources of the city;
- advising city council and others regarding the manner in which these plans and programs may be carried out.

At the time, no provisions were made to provide the Commission with a regular source of revenue that would enable it to carry out its defined duties, although it did state that the City may make appropriations to the conservation fund. This changed in 1993, however, when the Council agreed to allocate to the Commission up to $5,000 each year from what has become known as the "Land Use Change Tax" (LUCT). Thirty years later, this funding mechanism and the allocation amount has remained unchanged. What has changed is the cost of carrying out the Commission's prescribed duties.

For example:

- The Commission is statutorily directed to prepare a conservation and open space plan for the city based on the results of a natural resources inventory. The Claremont Natural Resources Inventory, completed in 2013, cost the Commission $18,200.
- Since the NRI cost nearly $20,000, it is reasonable to expect the conservation plan will cost as much if not more. The Plan is intended to guide the Commission in its mission to protect the City's most valuable resources and to provide guidance in the best use of those assets – it's number one directive.
- In addition, the Natural Resources chapter of the 2017 Master Plan directs the Commission to develop further plans and to obtain easements and fee simple parcels with which to further protect the City's water resources. A very rough estimate of the appraised value of undeveloped land in Claremont is $2,752 per acre. The purchase of a meaningful-sized parcel would clearly exceed the Commission's annual allocation.

- When the Commission had oversight of the Rail Trail, it spent $1,618 to remove several trees next to the Trail that were deemed hazardous.
- The Commission was also expected to fund a survey of a portion of the trail to determine the degree of encroachment at a cost in excess of $20,000. (The Commission respectfully declined.)
- Recently the City Project Manager approached the Commission for funds for a resource assessment of city-owned lands in the Whitewater watershed at a cost of $20,000. (The assessed lands are part of a wetland mitigation proposal associated with the North and Main Street project and if accepted, will save the City $300,000.) The Commission agreed to provide $7,000 toward the cost.
- The Commission has spent $5,600 on expenses associated with the Stevens Brook Conservation Easement, including completing the boundary survey that should have been completed by the developer, but which was not, marking the boundaries of the easement, purchasing and posting prohibited activity signs, installing game cameras and ultimately a gate to prevent repeated 4-wheeled activity within the easement.
- An additional $1,000 was spent in surveying the easement across the back of the Haugsrud property (parcel 83-2, 263 North Street) to provide permanent access to the easement by the public. Additional funds (amount as yet unknown) will be needed to complete the permanent access and parking area off of North Street.
- The Commission plans to develop a trail through the easement for educational purposes at an estimated cost of $7,250 (2020 estimate).
- The Commission is collaborating with Director Merrill, the Parks and Recreation Commission and local user groups to develop a management plan for 5 City-owned parcels in the Cat Hole Ecologically Significant Area. A critical step in developing that plan is a detailed assessment of the natural resources on these parcels. The estimated cost of that assessment is between $14,000 and $21,000.
- The Commission is charged with the oversight of a second conservation easement at the base of the capped landfill below the current transfer station (parcel 149-1). Boundaries of that easement were marked at the Commission's expense.
- $5,000 in 1993 is equivalent to approximately $10,252 in 2022 dollars.

The Commission has received $20,620 since 2012. This averages out to $2,291 per year. Based on the examples given above, we hope the Council can see that this amount does not adequately cover the expenses the Commission must incur.

It is our understanding that any LUCT funds received by the City beyond the $5,000 are used to help reduce the tax burden on City residents. It is understandable that the Council would be reluctant to give up any funding used for that purpose. However, based on our calculations – which have been confirmed by Finance Director Lisa Richmond - we can demonstrate that the diverted funds would have only a very minor effect on the taxpayer. Please consider:

1. In the past 9 years, there has been $57,722.50 surplus LUCT (the amount left after the annual allotment to the Conservation Commission.) This represents an average of $6,413.61/year.
2. The tax rate based on the FY 2023 approved budget is $15.7795/$1,000.
3. If we add the average annual surplus to the amount to be raised by taxes for FY 2023, the revised tax rate becomes $15.7880/$1,000 for a difference of $0.0085/$1,000.
4. This means that for a $100,000 property, the owner would pay $0.85 more per year. For a $200,000 property, the owner would pay $1.70 more per year.

The Commission hereby respectfully requests that the full amount of LUCT be dedicated to the Conservation Commission to aid in carrying out its statutorily-directed mission.

Gary Dickerman, Ward 3, Chair of Conservation Commission, explained the request of the Conservation Commission. Mr., Bohenko suggested appropriating the money, and then it would be a Policy decision. Mayor Girard regarded this evening was more for informational purposes.

Sullivan Smoke Stack

To: City Manager; Mayor & City Council
From: Nancy Merrill
Date: 8/31/22
Re: Sullivan Machine structures

An inspection report was completed by Structural Co. this past spring on the Sullivan smokestack. It was reported that cables attached to the lightening rod had been severed at about 25' above grade eliminating grounding and lightening protection, and the damage at the top of the tower was likely caused by a lightning strike. The full report of existing conditions and estimates for repairs is attached.

Over the summer UConn TAB had a team reviewing existing brownfield conditions, activity use restrictions, flood plain and overhead wires in the area of the smokestack and pump house. The concepts that they provided for reuse of the city land on the north side of the Sugar River included some with the structures and some without. They are reviewing the input from the members of the public received at the meeting on August 29th and we will provide you with that information and their final report when it is complete.

It is anticipated that planning work will continue under the Recreation Economy & Rural Communities technical assistance grant for the next six months. NH DES has also indicated that they will be providing engineering services to assist Claremont as it discusses future uses on these lands with regard to any brownfield constraints.

Ms. Merrill shared concern for safety. Ms. Merrill stated local citizens have indicated taking down the Smokestack, with the cost for the City being the rental of equipment.

A motion was made by Councilor Stone and seconded by Assistant Mayor Matteau to give the City Manager the authority to seek out costs and negotiations for the demolition of the Sullivan stack and pump house up to $20,000.

Southwest Community Services bus shelter

Memorandum

To: City Manager; Mayor & City Council

From: Nancy Merrill

Date: 8/31/22

Re: Southwestern Community Services Bus Shelter

SWCS has provided bus service from the lower North Street parking lot to Lebanon on Rt 120 this past year. They would like to build a covered bus shelter in a location that would have minimal impact on the use of the parking lot. We have reviewed existing leases and locations of city parking in the North Street lot and have identified a location shown on the attached map.

SWCS is scheduled to be heard by the Historic District Commission on September 22nd, and is hoping to have a shelter similar to that which was built for the Amtrak station.

Keith Thibault from SWCS will be at the City Council meeting on the 14th to answer any questions you might have about their proposal. We recommend that the City Council authorize a license to SWCS for placement of the bus shelter.

Motion to Authorize License Agreement for Property at the North Street Parking Lot, Map 107, Lot 31

The Claremont City Council hereby authorizes the City Manager or his designees to negotiate and enter into a multi-year license agreement with Southwestern Community Services to utilize a portion of the lower North Street Parking Lot at Map 107, Lot 31, for purposes of placing a bus shelter, to be laid out as described in the attached July 8, 2022 sketch plan, subject to approval by the Historic District Commission. This license shall be personal to Southwestern Community Services.

A motion was made by Councilor Contois and seconded by Assistant Mayor Matteau to authorize the City Manager to negotiate and enter into a multi-year license agreement with Southwestern Community Services.
